

10 reasons to study the LPC at Staffordshire

- 1 We have an excellent course taught by experienced staff in dedicated practice offices. Our course is suitable for high street or commercial practice with specialist electives.
- 2 You won't get lost in the crowd - we know all our students and have a genuine open door policy. With an intensive course such as the LPC, getting the support from friendly tutors is crucial. Some commercial providers take 100s of students we have on average 80-100 full-time students each year.
- 3 Interest free payment plan - spread your fees over three years. 15% discount for Staffs students and guaranteed place if you put us as first choice.
- 4 Flexible modes of study. Two day full-time course, 9-5 Mondays and Tuesdays, or four mornings full-time Monday-Thursday, or one day and two evenings full time. Part-time options are part-time day one day per week and part-time evening two evenings per week 6-9pm both available over 18 months - two years.
- 5 All our tutors are qualified solicitors or barristers - some providers cannot say this. We are able to inform our teaching from our experience in practice.
- 6 You will be taught by acknowledged experts - both civil and criminal litigation texts are written by our tutors, and used by other institutions.
- 7 Individual careers support - we cannot guarantee you a job but we put everything in place for you to get one. Many commercial providers have excellent statistics because their students already have a training contract arranged - we help you to get one. We have unique arrangements with local employers. Support is available with expert careers tutors with a proven track record of success.
- 8 LPC manuals - we believe they are essential and provide them to you for free. We also give you £150 printing allowance.
- 9 Open book exams- practising as a solicitor is not a memory test so we allow you to take your books and notes into the exam with you, after all in practice you would have access to books to advise a client. We even offer individual feedback on mock assessments.
- 10 Our students enjoy the LPC and give us excellent feedback on the support we give and the quality of our course - ask any of them about us.
