

Job Description for the Post of Lecturer in Law (Ref LW09/2)

1. General details

Job Title: Lecturer in Law
Location: Law School
Normal workbase: Stoke Campus
Tenure: Permanent
Salary: Grade 7, currently £30,595 - £35,468 per annum

2. Job Purpose

To contribute to the development and delivery of academic provision on our undergraduate and postgraduate law awards and related disciplines including associated academic operational responsibilities as required.

3. Relationships

Responsible to: Dean of Law via Programme Area Manager and Awards Manager

4. Main Activities

- § To teach and assess (throughout the year and during evenings and weekends as appropriate), as part of a teaching team, in the areas of knowledge appropriate to the aims of the provision within the School and where appropriate, across other Faculties/Schools of the University.
- § To contribute to the development of specialist teaching and learning provision, including short courses, in Law and associated disciplines.
- § To devise and deliver modules as determined by the relevant academic manager and to ensure that learning materials and methods of delivery meet defined learning objectives.
- § To undertake operational responsibilities associated with the delivery of academic provision, including the leadership of modules/small awards, as directed by the relevant academic manager.
- § To enhance the quality of teaching provision and programme development, drawing on leading practices from the HE and other sectors, and building e-learning into the delivery of teaching to students as appropriate.
- § To participate with other staff in the development of teaching, learning and assessment strategies.
- § To contribute to student support in administrative and pastoral roles throughout the year.
- § To represent both the award and the School in student recruitment activities, including participation in Clearing activities during the summer period and in Open Days throughout the year.
- § To attend and contribute to School meetings as required.
- § To contribute to the subject's activities and reputation both internally and externally.
- § To exercise a high standard of research and scholarship both personally and as a member of a team, working with colleagues to develop an inclusive, team-orientated approach to research activities.
- § To enhance the School's ability to engage with industrial and external partner contacts through effective networking to build relationships for future activities.

- § To pursue enterprise and research activities which enhance the external revenue of the School and to deliver various forms of consultancy and other services as determined by the relevant academic manager.
- § To maintain and develop areas of expertise under the general guidance and oversight of the relevant academic manager.
- § To undertake appropriate staff development activities as required.
- § To undertake other such responsibilities as may reasonably be required by the relevant academic manager and/or Dean of Law.

The above represents the range of generic activities which could typically be expected of a Lecturer in the University which is neither prescriptive nor exhaustive. Each individual post will have a particular emphasis and specific allocated responsibilities (see summary below) although these may of course change and develop according to the varying needs of the Faculty and subject area and also the developing skills and experience of the individual:-

Specific Responsibilities of the Post

- § To teach modules across our provision in Law, especially the ability to contribute to delivery of at least two of the Foundations of Legal Knowledge and at least one option on the School's undergraduate and LL.M provision.
- § If qualified as a solicitor, to contribute if required to the learning and teaching delivery on the Legal Practice Course.
- § To undertake academically associated administrative duties.

5. Person Sought

The successful applicant will have:

Essential Criteria:

- § A good honours degree in Law or a CPE
- § A Postgraduate qualification or Professional qualification in Law
- § An aptitude for lecturing/tutoring
- § Ability to effectively undertake student pastoral care
- § Ability to be a subject leader and contribute to the teaching of at least two of the Foundation subjects and one option on the LLB/LLM programmes
- § Ability to work effectively as part of a team
- § Good organisational skills
- § Excellent interpersonal skills
- § Excellent written and oral communication skills
- § Excellent presentation skills
- § Ability to work effectively with a range of standard IT software packages, including word processing and PowerPoint presentations (MS Office)
- § Self-motivated
- § Able to work on own initiative
- § Commitment to the University's mission and delivery of the University Plan
- § Willingness to engage in a structured induction programme as a start to Continuing Professional Development (CPD) at the University

Desirable Criteria:

- § Previous HE teaching experience
- § Membership of the HE Academy
- § Ability to take on an administrative role within the Law School (e.g. recruitment, level tutor)
- § A potential for contributing to the School's income generation activity

6. Special Conditions

This is a permanent, 1.0fte post.

There will be a need for the postholder to work occasional week-ends to cover activities such as recruitment events, teaching and CPD activities, and to teach on a number of evenings throughout the year.

There will be a need for flexible working practices by the role-holder to support different forms of delivery, such as distance and accelerated learning, across the whole of the academic year.

External Activities

External activities which enhance the work of the post holder are encouraged within the overall provisions of the exclusivity of the service arrangements to which the post holder is subject. Additionally, the Institution encourages employees to take a cross University role e.g. through membership of Committees and Working Parties.

New Lecturer Development Policy

The University is keen to support staff in achieving high standards of pedagogy in order to facilitate effective student learning. All newly appointed full-time and fractional contracted members of academic staff who have less than three years teaching experience and do not have the equivalent qualification from another University, are required to undertake and complete the Post Graduate Certificate in Higher and Professional Education (PgCHPE)/Post Graduate Diploma in Professional Education in Healthcare (PgDPEH) or 5-day survival guide to Teaching in Higher Education as a condition of his/her employment with Staffordshire University, in accordance with the policy. If you are shortlisted this will be explained further by the chair of the interview panel. Positive engagement in CPD in order to attain a high standard of pedagogy will be one of the factors considered during probation, at annual appraisals and when promotions are being made. Active involvement in the Post Graduate Certificate in Higher and Professional Education would be one source of evidence.

Research and Scholarly Activity

The duties of lecturing posts include participation in appropriate research and scholarly activity indicated in the Research Policy of the University. The extent of involvement in research and scholarly activity may vary with the balance between teaching, administration and research appropriate to particular posts. This will be determined by your Dean of Faculty in consultation with you, and will be reviewed regularly through the staff appraisal system. While it is in the nature of research and scholarly activity that it will often take place throughout the year and be integrated into the overall pattern of activities, it is envisaged that the periods of the year outside normal teaching weeks and the holiday entitlement will primarily be devoted to research and scholarly activity.

The University operates a Job Share Scheme. Applications from anyone interested in working part-time on a job share basis will be considered.
