

PROCUREMENT AT STAFFORDSHIRE UNIVERSITY GUIDELINES ON BEST PRACTICE

Background

Staffordshire University spends over £20million each year on acquiring goods, services and utilities. As a public-sector body, it is governed by strict rules on the expenditure of public funds. Financial Regulations are in place to guide and protect:

- tax payers
- the University
- individuals

To support Financial Regulations the Head of Procurement acts to:

- guide on compliance
- advise on nominated suppliers
- advise on procedures
- process purchase orders

Procurement within Staffordshire University is subject to current legislation and regulation from both the European Union and UK government. This requires compliance to the strict rules on the purchase of goods and services to allow for open competition throughout EU member states.

Central contracts for goods and services have been set up for the University and are to be used at all times. The benefits include:

- continuity of supply
- agreed levels of service
- fixed prices
- reduced administration in sourcing alternatives

To assist in ensuring compliance to University Financial Regulations the guidance of the Head of Procurement is always available. Good practice recommends his/her involvement at all stages of major projects to ensure that the business interests of the University are considered. In addition to establishing central agreements, contracts may also be required for specialist services or purchase orders for goods to be used within a single Faculty or Service.
