Our School-Centred Initial Teacher Training (SCITT) course provides Qualified Teacher Status (QTS) and a Postgraduate Certificate in Education (PGCE) validated by Birmingham City University. First established in 2012, with an Outstanding Ofsted grade in 2022, we run courses in most secondary subjects (with Post-16 experience) and primary education

(either 5-11 or 3-7 programmes). Arthur Terry SCITT leads a successful Initial Teacher Training (ITT) partnership of 25 schools in Birmingham, Staffordshire and Warwickshire. We look to recruit the very best from a range of backgrounds (career changers or straight from university) and offer diverse teaching experiences in both urban and rural settings. Our teacher training programme aims to 'grow our own' teachers to work within our local alliance and the region as a whole. Many who have completed their initial teacher training with us remain in our partnership, gaining employment in our schools, coaching others on the course and supporting new entrants to the profession. Many now hold leadership positions in our partner schools and across the region. Our train to teach completion rate and employment rate have always been consistently above the national average.
